Serial Number 242

August 2023

Self-strength, courage and strong morale are required if we want to bring in development, change, achieve something in every sector of life.

It is a rule of psychology that when we plan a creative work, the mind starts being vacillating. Shows many excuses to weaken the morale, creates imaginary hurdles and causes interruptions.

If we want to accomplish any task, let us control the impulses of the mind to increase the resolution and determination power. Courage, valour and determination are closely related. It is the power of determination that triggers courage and valour within us.

Courage, valour and determination become stronger only when problems arise in life. Laziness, carelessness stifles growth.

If you want to achieve the goal of life, if you want to bring pious, constructive change in self and society, if you want to build virtuous destiny, it is necessary to foster courage, faith, co-operation and constructive approach along with determination.
